- Write your child's name on their backpack and face-masks/fandannas (they're all the same otherwise...)
- Wear Blue tomorrow!

Today's KidVid Story...

CRAFT Day 1: Sponge Paint Power Train

Supplies:

Sponge, Paper plate, 12x18" paper, cut carrots, celery, paint, markers

Instructions are in your packet or online.

TIP: If you don't have paint sitting around often times you can get little sets in the dollar bins at checkout at Michael's or at the dollar store. If you want to save this craft for later when you have the paint, parents can switch Monday's craft with the craft for Day 3, Boldness Train Lantern.

Chew! Chew! Snack Suggestion

Day 1: Crispy Creative Train

Supplies:

graham crackers, Nilla wafers, banana slices, marshmallows, popcorn, cheese sticks (sliced), cheese-its, etc.

Keep the VBS vibe going by making a snack like we would and talk about today's story while you do it! Today, gather whatever you have on hand that have different rectangle, square and round shapes. Have each child arrange the pieces on a plate in the shape of a train. Talk about some of the hard things we often have to face. Compare trains with each other— are they similar? How are they different? How powerful are trains? How powerful is our awesome God? What hard thing did God help Ananias with in the story today? What hard things does He help us with?
